How it Works
Once the coverage requirements have been determined, we will provide communication material templates that can be customized and distributed to your members to promote the program prior to October.

Plan members can locate a participating Walgreens pharmacy by calling 800-FLU-9950 (800-358-9950) or visiting walgreens.com/flu. For their convenience, and to be waited on promptly on clinic days, we encourage your members to pre-register in person at any participating Walgreens store up to 14 days in advance. When they visit the Walgreens pharmacy for their vaccine and present their plan ID card, the pharmacist will submit the claim and will collect the applicable copay, if any.

Vaccination Eligibility and Cost
Adults 18 years of age and older can receive the flu vaccine. Adolescent immunizations are subject to state law. Ask your Walgreens pharmacist about your state’s regulations.

If you have members in one of the 19 states where Walgreens pharmacists are not administering the vaccines, members may still take advantage of the program. In these states, if a benefit is created with our third-party vendor, vaccinations and billing will be administered through them.

If a benefit is not created for your members, they can still receive the vaccines. The cash price for the flu vaccine is $25 and the pneumonia vaccine is $40.

Pharmacist Administration of Vaccines
The Walgreens pharmacists who administer the vaccines are the same pharmacists your members have come to know and trust. They have all been trained and certified in Pharmacy-Based Immunization Delivery, a national training program that provides the skills necessary to become a primary source for vaccine advocacy, education, and administration.
A Benefit for You and Your Members

Flu and pneumonia affect millions of people annually in the United States. By promoting and offering this benefit, you may potentially decrease your members’ medical costs and prescription drug utilization, saving money for both them and you. The influenza vaccination has been shown to reduce the number of visits to healthcare providers by 13 percent to 44 percent.¹

At Walgreens, providing quality, convenient healthcare is our priority. We want to work with you to help your members save money and stay healthy. Our program begins in October and ends in December, or until vaccine supplies are exhausted. Please advise your Walgreens representative soon if you want to lower your overall healthcare spend and take part in this program.
